PRICING GUIDE · COST LEVERS

Nine ways to pay less per part.

Every Printie price is built from five lines. Each one has a lever you control.

Material	Plate setup	Color setup	Order fee	Shipping
Grams your part uses	Per plate, not per part	Per color, per plate	Packing + QC, per order	Our negotiated rate
$30.00 / kg	$4.00 / plate	$1.00 / color	$4.00 / order	No markup

The example part — Used in every example

Material	Size	Settings	1 part	Full plate of 6
PLA, 1 color	184×25×100 mm	0.2 mm layers, 15% infill	134 g · 4h 10m	805 g · 22h 45m

01 Fill the plate — −46%

Setup is charged per plate, so every part on a plate shares it. One part alone carries the full $5.00 setup; 6 on a plate split it to about 83¢ each. Keep each plate under a day of print time (07).

1 part on a plate: $9.03 → 6 on one plate: $4.86 /part

02 Print ahead — $576 later

Stock runs save when they fill plates (01) or reach volume pricing (08). You prepay material and printing, fulfillment is charged as each order ships, and a monthly storage plan starts as soon as we hold stock or inventory for you.

144-part run: $704 now → As each order ships: $4.00 /order

03 More parts per box — −34%

The order fee is charged once per order, however many parts are inside. Bundles and multi-packs spread it out (2 per box is $6.89 a part), and one parcel ships for less than two.

1 part per order: $8.89 /part → 4 per order: $5.89 /part

04 Keep colors lean — −83%

Each color adds $1.00 to every plate. Across a full plate that is pennies a part. On a one-off print, every extra color lands on that one part, so save multicolor for batched runs.

4 colors, 1 part: +$3.00 /part → 4 colors, plate of 6: +$0.50 /part

05 Trim the grams — 1 roll

Material is priced by the gram. Lighter infill or fewer walls can cut weight without changing how a part looks or fits. We tune plates to finish on one 1 kg roll, so none is lost to a roll change.

Every 10 g saved: −$0.30 /part → Same, plate of 6: −$1.80

06 Send inserts in bulk — −90%

Supplying screws, cards or tape for us to pack? Each inbound shipment carries one $5 receiving fee (two boxes included), so fewer, larger shipments cost less per part.

Inserts for 50 parts: 10¢ /part → For 500 parts: 1¢ /part

07 Fail less — +12¢ safer

Failed prints caused by the design or its print profile can be charged for the material used, reprint labor for the failed plates and the order fee ($37.18 for 7 of this part); some designs never print at 100%, and those failures count. Printer faults are on us. Plates over a day fail more often, so our example prints 6 per plate, not 7.

7/plate · 26h 27m: $4.74 /part → 6/plate · 22h 45m: $4.86 /part

08 Order in volume — −34¢

A stock run big enough to use about 100 to 200 one-kilogram rolls earns bulk filament pricing, up to $2.50 off per roll. Our example part uses 134 g, so 100 rolls is about 750 parts, and $2.50 off a roll is about 34¢ off each part. Ask us to apply it.

100 rolls of this part: ~750 parts → Up to $2.50 off a roll: −$0.34 /part

09 Fit a smaller box — −$0.50

Our order fee assumes our largest box, about $1 of packaging. Parts that ship in one of our small boxes, 4×4×4, 6×4×4, 7×5×5 or 9×6×5 in, take $0.50 off the order fee. Ask us to apply it.

Largest box: ~$1.00 → Small box, per order: −$0.50

Printie standard rates as of October 2026, on the example part above (sliced in Bambu Studio for a Bambu Lab A1; times are estimates). Fill the plate and Fail less show the plate alone; elsewhere a full-plate price includes the order fee spread over a 144-part stock run (about 3¢ a part). Shipping is a UPS Ground Saver example to Zone 8; the two-part parcel is estimated. Your live quote in the Printie app is an estimate until the order is charged, at the rates in effect then.
